Portland, Maine, October 29, 2021 - Vena's Fizz House has announced plans for its new expanded location. The original venue closed in January, 2021 to plan for a larger space to accommodate their business operation. The new space will be located at 867 Congress Street in Portland. "The building is rich in Portland's history", says Mary Jo Marquis, Vena's director of business development. "Built in 1889, its original use was a church and we are thrilled to now own this historic property and create an entirely new footprint that will bring fresh energy to that corner of the city."

Vena's previous mixology shop and bar space, located at 345 Fore Street in Portland closed in part, due to COVID. "Our long term goal was to eventually scale and grow into a bigger space but the pandemic definitely forced our hand to make that decision earlier than we had planned." said Vena's co-owner, Johanna Corman. "The new Vena's 2.0 will hold all the nostalgic charm and passion for beverages and flavors that we are known for. Additionally, the venue lends itself to events and we plan to offer a unique space for specialty occasions and mixology classes." explained Corman. Plans for the reopening will happen in spring 2022.

Vena's Fizz House was founded in 2013 by Steve and Johanna Corman. In addition to the Portland brick and mortar venue, Vena's also produces a brand of all natural and organic beverage making products in Westbrook, Maine that are available for both wholesale and retail through their ecommerce site.
